

QUESTION WORDS, 5 TIMETABLE, THE TIME
VOCABULARY		CULTURAL FACT	GRAMMAR
¿Qué? ¿Cómo? ¿Quién? ¿A qué hora? ¿A dónde? ¿Dónde? ¿Por qué? ¿Cuántos? ¿Cuánto?	What? How? Who? At what time Where to? Where? Why? How many? How much?	Do you know that the polite way of asking what? = ¿Qué? is instead How? = ¿Cómo?. It sounds much nicer!	All question have an accent, however, when you reply using the same question word it does not have an accent. e.g: ¿Qué tal? = how are you? Ayer hice algo que me gusta = yesterday I did something that I like.
Números en 5s cinco diez quince veinte veinticinco y cinco treinta treinta y cinco cuarenta cuarenta y cinco cincuenta	Numbers in 5s five ten fifteen twenty twenty-five thirty thirty-five forty forty-five fifty	We practise the numbers counting in five (five times table) in order to practise our numbers and be able to tell the time with more confidence	When you write numbers from twenty onwards 20=veinte the e is change to an i and add the correspondent number. e.g: veintiuno, veintidos, veintitres, etc up to 31 when the numbers are divided by a Y: e.g: treinta y uno, treinta y dos, treinta y tres, and this pattern continues for the rest of the numbers.
¿Qué hora es?	What time is it?	In Latin American countries and even in Spain people are not as punctual as people are in England!	If you ask ¿A qué hora? it means At what time?
